Something for Everyone

This list offers a very broad selection of titles to choose from regardless if you are a reader or a serious collector. New books, recently out of print, classic reprints, antiquarian and collectable we have them all. For the advanced collector we have some excellent titles by Chapman, Lyell, N'Zau, Peel, Speke, Stanley and Stigand. Their condition will not disappoint you.

Visit our website www.trophyroombooks.com to see multiple images of most of the books on this list. The images provide a visual aid to understand when we describe a book as fine, near fine or very good. Many of the books provide images of the table of contents and illustrations to further help in determining the content of the book. The list represents what was in stock at the time of publication but the website reflects what is currently in stock. If a book has been sold you can leave a want for the title. In addition to this list the website contains many other out of print as well as new publications, ephemera, books mainly on travel and exploration and early maps. Enjoy the list and our website. Please see comments on page 10 regarding shipping.

20. Caldwell, Edmund The Art of Edmund Caldwell II 1982 Mazoe, Rhodesia 218 pp. Elephant folio. A completely handmade book. Copy #9 of only 250. All presubscribed prior to publication. Following the enthusiastic reception and mountains of compliments garnered by the first tribute to Caldwell, Frank Read Press did a second book, this on the artist's work in general. There are fabulous illustrations of African game (his watercolors are world renowned), references, notes, information on his studio, a bibliography of notes and references and a zoologist's appraisal of Caldwell's work. There are 44 full page colored plates of Caldwell's work each with a matching page of text. The quality of workmanship and materials has rarely been matched in bookmaking. Clearly this was a long labor of love for the Reeds and they made sure it would be a book that will long be remembered. Another fitting tribute to Caldwell's work. This copy has obviously neither been read nor changed hands often because it is in near fine condition in original red cloth over linin. Substantial additional postage. $1,800

Fine in fine orig slipcase. $160

43. Flack, Peter Hunting the African Buffalo 2017 South Africa You can argue about which animal is the most dangerous, most glamorous, rarest, etc. But what you cannot argue about is the fact the African Cape buffalo hunting is perhaps the favorite dangerous big game animal among hunters, and the other African buffalo species are popular to hunt as well. Now, well known hunter/author Peter Flack has brought together everything there is to know about hunting the African buffalo (all subspecies). In this monumental work, 480-pages, 700+ color & b/w pictures, articles from the hunters of yesteryear as well as the top professional and amateur hunters of today. There are even chapters on guns and clothing. Of the 30 articles by today's top professionals 28 have been written especially for this book. The Who's who of this author contributor list includes: Robin Hurt, Don Cowie, Rudy Lubin, Jeff Rann, John Oosthuizen, Jason Roussos and more. Well known hunters from earlier times include Selous, Taylor, Findlay, Christy, Temple-Perkins, Kirby. 48. Foster, Hugh W. Someone of Value 2001 Agoura, CA 336 pp, 43 ill. The long awaited reprint of perhaps the best biography ever done on Robert Ruark. The original limited edition of only 1,000 copies sold out in less than a year. This reprint ed even has some extra photos not in that edition. Through major novels and thousands of newspaper articles, Ruark was known to millions. This old man's boy was a warrior, columnist, reporter and big game hunter. His popular novels are reprinted even to this date. And the demand for this Foster biography now is being fulfilled. Ruark was a man who saw the winds of change sweeping through Africa and his own life. He was a visionary, a man who always lived his own life at risk, and a noted international hunter (There are worse memorials to life than a book or a tusk.) Hugh Foster spent hundreds of hours doing research for this biography both with Ruark's papers and with people who knew him. He's produced an exciting biography of a man as well as a look at a man and a continent both scrambling for existence. Fine in like jacket. $55

75. McCallum, Alex My Africa A Professional Hunter's Journey of Discovery. 2003 CA Trophy Room Books. Signed numbered ltd ed. 1,000 copies. Foreword by Pat Cottar. 232 pp, almost 200 b/w ill. The McCallums have been a thread through professional safari hunting in Africa for almost 75 years. Alec held PH licenses in Kenya, Tanzania, Central African Republic, Sudan and Zambia. He talks about safari men who constantly faced danger and loved it, of being governed in the early days only by a love of personal freedom and playing by rules which were never written down. No one has told this story of changing Africa quite like Alec McCallum. 200 photos take us on a panoramic journey through an African big game hunting community that fewer and fewer individuals are able to recall. Fine in like jacket. $125

76. McElroy, C. J. McElroy Hunts Dangerous Game 2001 Agoura, CA almost 300 pages and 150 photos. Most people know of the remarkable career of CJ McElroy, founder of Safari Club international. A veteran of 56 African safaris in 20 countries, 41 safaris in Europe, Asia and the South Pacific, and 62 in N & S America, Mac's trophy records are indeed impressive. He has received 35 major awards. Not bad for a man whose formal education ended at age 11 when he ran away from home. This book is about his hunts for DANGEROUS GAME, the kind that can and will kill the hunter when given a chance. It includes the big five plus other cats, bears crocodiles etc. Mac is man who knows when Lady Luck is with or against the hunter. He know how to win and how to lose. But above all Mac is a man who knows how to hunt dangerous game...and with his natural story-telling ability this book is a sure winner and must-reading for hunters and collectors alike. NOTE: On March 1, 2002 Mac passed away. He led an adventurous 88 year life. Dangerous Game is the first of Mac's three blockbuster books on his worldwide hunting career. Limited to 1,000 copies, numbered, SIGNED by the author. Fine in like jacket. $125

77. McElroy, C. J. McElroy Hunts Mountain Game 2002 Agoura, CA 250 pp, 112 b/w photographic illustrations. Nothing compares to hunting truly free range mountain game in their rugged, natural environment. The Grand Slam of North American wild sheep, the super slam of the world's wild sheep, markhor in Pakistan, ibex on several continents plus mountain game in Europe, South America and Africa. They're all here. This book is filled with the kind of stories from which classic emerge. Mac's quest for these animals lasted an amazing 50 years! His stories take the reader to some of the most remote parts of the planet. No matter how much technology changes most things, one thing is certain: the mountain game hunter must climb high, trek on foot, and deserve that highly rewarded feeling when that head of heads finally comes to rest beside his tired feet. A must for all sheep hunters and those interested in good adventure. Limited to 1,000 copies, numbered, SIGNED by the author. Mountain Game is the second in his trilogy. Fine in like jacket. $125

78. McElroy, C. J. McElroy Hunts The Antelopes of Africa and Antlered Game 2002 Agoura, CA 389 pages, 143 black and white photographic ill. 8.5 x 11 inch format. Mac's final book before passing away. A nearly 400-page blockbuster. Covers the antelope of Africa, and the spiral-horned antelope together with antlered game from all over the world. Although spiral horned antelope have long held a mystical attraction for the big game hunter, there are relatively few on the subject. Hunting for other African antelope have been described but never before in a way that presents them in the same challenging environment as the spiral horned game. These stories are a testimony to Mac's story telling ability, to his enthusiasm as a big game hunter and to his dedicated quest for all the African antelope. The following are some of the professionals who guided Mac on hunts described herein: Glen Cottar, Tony Seth-Smith, Karl Luthy, Derek McLeod, Durival Simoes, Norman Deane, Ian Henderson, Peter Johnstone, Gary Kelly, Rohil Nana, Gary Powell, Chappie Scott, Ron Sparrow, Claude Vasselet, Jose Ruis. As regards Antlered Game, Mac took several hundred animals representing 37 races and 19 species. Deer are one of the smartest game animals and represent a tremendous quarry - especially when a trophy specimen is sought. And it's all here in one blockbuster volume. Limited to 1,000 copies, numbered, SIGNED by the publisher. This is the third book in Mac's trilogy. Fine in like jacket. $125

95. Rikhoff, Jim Hunting the African Buffalo and Lion 2008 Clinton, NJ Amwell Press. 614 pages, profuse line drawings by Guy Coheleach. HUNTING THE AFRICAN BUFFALO AND LION combines the best of the two Amwell limited editions and adds NEW material by other recent, well known professional hunters. All the authors whose stories are included are men who are legends in the big game hunting fraternity. "You don't get engaged to a Cape Buffalo, you get married to him - for life, his or yours. When being hunted, the cape buffalo is dedicated to one thing, living, and to the principle that either you eliminate him or he will eliminate you. The lion, a hunter itself, does not respond well to threats. When it comes for you, make up your mind to shoot or clear out, for the lion covers 100 yards in half the time required for an Olympic sprinter. Through 42 exciting chapters you will go along old and new game trails with some very special authors. After all, when you're dealing with men like Selous, Roosevelt, Millais, Foran, Percival, Kirby, Stigand, Patterson, Madeira, Seia, Hallamore, de Lima, Montvoisin and Coheleach - well, you've got the deck stacked. Some animals might be considered more dangerous, cunning, graceful etc than the African lion or buffalo - but they stand out because they both are cunningly smart and formidable adversaries. Reading these stories will make your heart pound a bit, too. For those who may never get the chance to hunt in Africa, and for those who have, these thrilling narratives, will transport you to and through the great African big game hunting fields. $125

96. Rikhoff, Jim Hunting the Big Cats 1981 NJ 2 vol: 438 & 470 pp. cheetah leopard lion cougar jaguar tiger. 900 pages of writings culled from the best ever on the subjects. A fine anthology. This signed limited ed set was so popular that a condensed one vol ed was later issued. As issued the case for this book was too small and most copies have some damage to case. This copy has almost no damage to case but it requires care and patience to take books out of case. Slight spotting on book covers. Contents are fine. See images on website. $275

104. Seia, Hugo In Any Kind of Cover 2002 Agoura, CA Hunting the Dangerous Game of Africa. 236 pp, an amazing 268 photographic illustrations. Large 8.5 x 11 inch format. Foreword by Luis Pedro de sa e Mello and a story on Cape Buffalo hunting by Ross Seyfried. On one side is the big game hunter. On the other side is the wild game animal-blessed with sharp senses and protected by the habitat. You're inside the dense bush where visibility is limited and ability to maneuver is almost nil. The game that selects this cover is almost always the dangerous kind. So you want someone on your team with knowledge and a big rifle. Because here, whoever comes off second best pays with their life. Hugo Seia is a seasoned, highly regarded professional hunter. This, his second book, came as a result of great demand from those who read his first, Mundjamba. He treats hunting the big five individually and provides a great chapter on rifle and ammunition selection. His stories prove the point- or illustrate the exception that proves the rule. Ross says at the end of his buffalo hunt, "I was glad we succeeded. My tracker was glad the buffalo had not." You'll be glad you read In Any Kind of Cover, Hunting the Dangerous Game of Africa. Limited to 1,000 copies. Numbered. Signed by the author. Fine in like jacket. $125

119. Tre-Hardy, Gilles The Path of a Hunter 1997 Agoura, CA 290 pp. Over 100 ill. Foreword by Marc Pechenart. Make room on your shelf for a new classic. There are more photos of 100-lb elephant trophies in this book than in most others. This is the incredible autobiography of an intrepid hunter. The author was himself hunted during WWII and twice escaped back to his native France before heading for western Africa and then Central Africa. He was more like a John Boyes than a mere hunter. One of his favorite sayings: anything that does not deserve a .470 is not worth hunting; when in a dangerous situation make your mind up quickly and move your butt even more so. Tre-Hardy was selected as personal PH to most French Presidents that visited Central Africa during his career. It is both an excellent account of a hunting life in post WWII Colonial Africa and there are many serious jumbos hunted between the covers of this tome. It is beautifully written and well above the ordinary. It will be enjoyed by all who want to stalk an amazing assortment of huge ivory as well as getting a very interesting look at adventure from all "those British chaps." An absorbing work. Fine in like jacket. $85

120. Vokins, Nancy The Weatherby Stories from the Premier Big-Game Hunters of the World, 1956-2002. 2004, Long Beach, Ca. Safari Press. 434 pp. Ill.
